Chatham County Police Department Investigating Armed Robberies Targeting Hispanic Victims

Suspects Claimed to be Law Enforcement in One Incident

Chatham County, GA (April 3, 2020) – The Chatham County Police Department is investigating several armed robberies where the suspects are targeting Hispanic victims.

At approximately 4:00 this morning, a victim residing in the 800 block of Quacco Road reported being awoken by a knock on his door. The victim stated that the person outside claimed to be law enforcement and displayed a badge. When the victim opened the door, the suspect displayed a firearm and a struggle ensued. During the struggle, a female suspect ran into the residence and stole cash from the victim's wallet. The victim was not injured, and was unable to give a detailed description of the suspects.

Certain aspects of this crime lead detectives to believe that it is related to other recent armed robberies in unincorporated Chatham County where Hispanic victims have been targeted. Anyone who has information about these cases, is asked to call Chatham County Police at 912-652-6920 or Crime Stoppers at 912-234-2020. Tipsters are anonymous and may qualify for a cash reward.
